

Mark Sorrell

Mark began his career as a wicketkeeper but after being overlooked for state duties he went on to make his mark as a coach. After guiding the South Australia women's team he was handed the reins of the Australian women's team and during his time in charge (2005-07) the side won 17 of their 21 ODIs.

Moving back to Adelaide in the 2007 off-season, Mark signed a two-year deal to take over from Wayne Phillips as South Australia's coach.

Along with his coaching roles, Mark has also held the position of Director of Y-Coaching Matters and Senior Manager Pathways and Cricket at NT Cricket before accepting the role of State Talent and Development Manager for Queensland Cricket.

Mark who has been an assistant coach with the Fire and Heat and part of the QC pathways system for since 2019, was appointed coach of the Queensland and Brisbane Heat in 2024.

During his playing days, Mark represented the South Australia Second XI, spent time in league cricket in Lancashire, and enjoyed 12 seasons with the Salisbury District club in Adelaide.
