HEADMASTER'S MESSAGE.

During a school week of one hundred and sixty-eight hours, you spend about thirty-two of them at school being "educated". Another fifty-six are spent in sleeping. What do you do with the other eighty hours?

Isn't it something of a shock to realize that against the thirty-two hours spent at school you have some eighty more or less uncommitted hours that you can, to a large degree, spend as you feel so disposed? The way you spend this time is also part of your education, whether it be in reading, listening to radio, watching T.V., taking part in sport, joining in activities such as youth clubs, pursuing a hobby and so on. In all these activities, your horizons are being widened all the time.

Fundamentally, your school education is concentrated on particular fields and directed along specific lines, whereas what is learned in leisure is more general or perhaps superficial. Your teachers try to see that your time at school is spent profitably and that you gain as much knowledge as possible in defined areas. But do you supplement this to the best of your ability by spending leisure hours wisely and profitably?

We try to help you by encouraging participation in what are known as extra-curricular activities such as physical education, music, reading library books, dancing, participation in clubs, excursions, theatre parties and so on. Continue these and similar interests after leaving school - such activities contribute to COMPLETE living. Thus you may live a full life, enjoying yourself to the full and bringing pleasure to others.

Modern education aims at teaching and preparing students for such a way of life.

If Semmons.

EDITORIAL.

The latter part of the 20th century is sometimes referred to as an "Era of Change," where social conventions, basic laws, education and so on are continually changing to suit the conditions of modern society. Progress to some, regress to others, these changes are increasingly obvious in our lives.

The beginning of the school year 1969, saw the arrival of a new Deputy Head Master, Mr. Phillips, and Deputy Head Mistress, Miss McPharlin at Salisbury High School, and, with them, the introduction of many new ideas. With the completion, early this year, of the new wing, many other innovations have also come about. The Matriculation students were given the opportunity of running the new wing; this was undertaken by a democratically elected committee who made several worthwhile rules which have, in general, been adhered to. Though some students have disapproved of this scheme, we, as Matriculation students, have appreciated the responsibility and the chance to bridge the gap between secondary and tertiary education.

The new yard duty system, also introduced this year, whilst being an improvement on the old system, has shown that we still need to supervise the yard too often. It is unfortunate that many students cannot see for themselves the necessity of keeping the school clean. Is a squad of prefects necessary in order to maintain tidiness within the school? Should we revert to the old methods, or do we continue to try new ideas?

The Magazine Committee once again has altered the format of our magazine, in an attempt to improve upon our former efforts, We have retained the important traditional features of a school magazine whilst attempting to alter the presentation and to include several new features. It is hoped that these changes are well-received. Many students do not realize that the magazine is typed at the school, that it is printed and put together in the school, largely by the students themselves. This involves a great deal of time-consuming and tedious work. The general editors therefore wish to thank all those who helped to compile our 1969 magazine.

PREFECTS' REPORT, 1969.

During 1969, the prefects have had a greater part in the running of thool than in previous years. Besides the usual Yard Duty, Canteen and Gate Duty, prefects have been judges and officials at our own s Day, Swimming Carnival, and also the Inter-school Swimming Carnival. A meeting held at Gawler High School for all the Head and Deputy Head cts of the Central District area brought forth many new ideas on Yard better understanding between prefects and other students, and a r inter-school relationship in this area. Shortly after this, the Duty system was changed, making every class in the school do Yard instead of only the first year students.

Other new tasks undertaken by the prefects this year were the runof an assembly and the taking of classes. At the assembly, both the Prefects and the Sport Prefects gave short talks concerning the attiof students towards various school activities. Several weeks later, s of two or three prefects went into each class during the R.I. n to hear the opinions from students about school life in general
p ask for suggestions to improve it.

For the first time, this year, the prefects undertook the entire ization and running of the school socials. With the Head Master's val, a hall was hired for the Senior School social, the library was for the 1st and 2nd year social, and two separate bands were hired. socials were very successful and credit must be given to all the its.

1969 has proved that prefects really are an asset to school life and ist a traditional feature of it.

LIBRARY REPORT.

As a library monitor, I think I can safely say that the work of the library personnel is never ending. Mrs. Finch, the head of the library staff, has a laborious task every lunch hour, trying to keep the peace, especially on rainy days. Since the monitors straighten untidy book shelves, cover new books, repair tattered and donkey-eared books, mark off, return to the shelves and issue books again at the desk, plus type and file the catalogue cards, dust and polish the shelves, replace incorrectly returned books, straighten tables and chairs and even chase out students who use the library incorrectly, (forgive me fellow monitors if I have left something out), I believe students should respond by using the Library in the correct fashion.

Having said what I feel about the users of the library, I should like to add that if the students did not treat their library so abominably and fill it to capacity every lunch hour, we really would have nothing to do.

Salisbury High School is lucky in that it has such a well-equipped library for both educational and leisure use for the benefit of the students and teaching staff. Because it is so well-used, and books on many different subjects are often sought after, the incoming traffic of new books and the latest written material will increase still further in the years to come. At the end of 1968, there was a total of 6,757 books in the library. Since February, 1969, 470 new non-fiction and 103 fiction books have been added to the library in the first six months and 800 new books are expected to increase the stock before the year is over.

Our school is lucky to have had MRS. Drewing working in the library and simplifying the system of book numbering and now to have MRS. Finch to guide the monitors in the efficient running of the school library.

Elke Stelmann, 4D.

CADET REPORT.

1969 began on a very high note for our cadets of Salisbury High School. During January, several of our cadets and N.C.O.'s attended courses at Woodside and Scotch College and all were very successful. The cadets involved were: WOII C. Marron to CUO, Cpl. Yarrow to Sgt., and Cdts. B. McMahon, M. Heasman, T. Whitney and N. Vesotsky to Cpls., and Cdts. B. Devlin, M. Cassidy and G. Hewton to L.Cpls.

During the year, Sgt. Yarrow attended courses at Woodside and Deep Creek under trying conditions to gain the Adventure Training Award. This is only the third time that this award has been won at this school.

The activities of the Unit this year included a successful weekend bivouac at Kuipto Forest and Range Day at Dean Range. Early this year, a team consisting of 2nd and subsequent year cadets joined with C.M.F. and Regular rifle teams to take part in the S.L.R. trophy shoot. The main highlight of the training year is the annual camp, and this year saw undoubtedly the most successful camp we have attended. Held at El Alamein and Cultana (for 2nd and 3rd years), it enabled us to carry out a very successful training programme and, at the same time, have a thoroughly enjoyable weekend.

The Salisbury High School Cadet Unit records its appreciation to the Commander and staff of 4 Cadet Erigade for their assistance throughout the year, particularly to WOII Herbert and WOII Gray, the A.R.A. instructor attached to the unit. Also our sincere thanks to the OC and 2IC, Mr. Seipolt and Mr. Abbott who have made the cadets possible.

ACTIVITIES WEEK REPORT.

This year's "Activities Week" was held from August 19th until the Unlike previous years, the money was raised for the school and for charity. Each class tried to raise as much money as it could special mention must be made of the efforts of the Matriculation ses ($77.55), 2D, ($40.00), 2A, ($25.75), and 3E, ($23.80). All ses participated wholeheartedly in the activities, however, and is a good example of that usually rare "school spirit."

One highlight of "Activities Week" was a "Thingamijig" by 4A in Mr. McElroy, an up and coming hippie, did his rendition of ... A fine performance it was too, at least until his long brown accidentally fell off. For one day students were allowed the lege of not wearing school uniform, for a nominal fee of course. was a huge success with some teachers turning up in school uniform. Iction in which prefects were sold, and a "Knobbly Knees" competiwere among other original and successful events.

The highlight of "Activities Week" was, of course, the judging of school's "Miss Activity." After a preliminary judging in which all intrants paraded before a well-renowned panel of judges, namely, hillips, Gail Anderson, Brian Peak, Miss Howell-Price and Mrs. Try, Anne Devlin was chosen from six finalists at a glittering intation on Tuesday night. 1969 Miss Charity Queen, Sharon Benson, there to crown and sash the new Queen.

Not to be outdone, a competition was held among the boys of the 1. Among the many entrants, judging was difficult, but Graham managed to win the title of "Mr. Slob" by a narrow margin.

Through "Activities Week" $434.24 was raised. This money is to led to buy a video tape-recorder which will allow television ammes to be taped and replayed to classes at appropriate times. It also keep a permanent record of any particular programme. In stions for the balance of the money have been given by the students, hese include new library books and to help towards the new canteen.

Overall, this year's "Activities Week" was highly successful and result of the whole school jointly co-operating. The point was not y which class could raise the most money, but rather to raise for the school and to have fun doing it. In this regard, the must be considered a huge success.

Anne Lavelle, 5M.

ELECTRONICS CLUB REPORT.

At the start of this year, Mr. Kite announced that he had arranged for an expert in the field of electronics to come and instruct all interested fourth year students.

Our club now has ten members who attend the club from four o'clock until five thirty on Monday evenings. The instructor is Mr. Len Forrest who has patiently explained to us the fundamentals of electronics. We have, thanks to his careful guidance, started to assemble a computer. Mr. Kite has shown us two interesting films to date. It is interesting to note that next year's physics course will contain an amount of electronics. Could our Senior Master be trying to lighten his load for next year?

On behalf of my fellow members, I would like to thank Mr. Forrest for giving up so much of his valuable time to teach us. Thanks also go to Mr. Kite for organizing the club, the laboratory assistant for typing and duplicating the notes, and the Parents and Friends Association for providing the equipment necessary to make the club a success. It is to be hoped that the club's membership grows next year and the club carries on to be as popular with its members in 1970 as it was in 1969.

Yvonne Owen, 4C.

DRAMA CLUB REPORT.

This year's Drama Club put on a very successful play at the Shedley Theatre, Elizabeth, in September. It was part of a Drama Festival for schools, including items from other secondary schools in the Salisbury-Elizabeth district. We presented the comedy, "Sunday Costs Five Pesos." The cast included the polished performer, Gillian Sellar as Berta; Michael Heasman as her dashing but misguided lover, Fidel; Sheridan Krollig, who gave a hilarious performance as Tonia, a slightly dimwitted young woman; Valerie Hutchinson as Celestina; and Anne Lavelle as Berta's friend, Salome. Set in a small Mexican village, the play depicts a quarrel between the betrothed young couple, Berta and Fidel, over the alleged flirtation of Fidel with Celestina, the daughter of the most important man in town. Once the misunderstanding is cleared up, Berta and Fidel are reunited and we leave them planning their wedding and future life together.

The success of the play was a tribute not only to the hard work which went into it on the part of Mr. Wilkins and the actors, but also to the people employed behind the scenes. Mrs. Vickery and her helpers were responsible for the building and painting of the scenery while Mrs. Matsen trained girls in the art of professional stage make-up, and Mrs. Penny was responsible for costumes. Colourful sets, imaginative costumes and professional makeup, backed with the enthusiasm of all involved, made Salisbury's effort in the Drama Festival a very enjoyable and profitable one for all concerned.

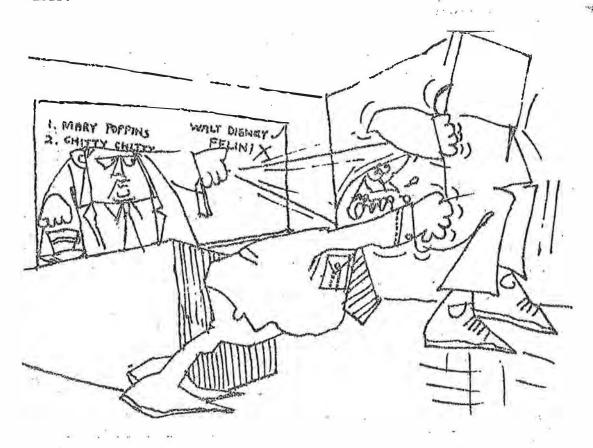

Anne Lavelle, Gillian Sellar, 5M.

MATRICULATION FILM CLUB REPORT.

The Film Club began towards the end of the first term this year. ally, the club attracted considerable interest; the interest, er, fluctuated throughout the year, depending upon the choice of availability of cash, nearness of exams. and so on.

Most of the films were chosen 'democratically' although at times derable 'engineering' of the choice was apparent. Films seen "The Graduate," "2001 A.D., A Space Odyssey," "The Planet of pes," "Ben Hur," "Pharoah," (shocking choice), "Bedazzled," and and Fall of the Third Reich." On all occasions, the price was good, and, generally, the films were enjoyed by those attending.

All students should realize and be grateful for the essential work done by the two organizers, Andre Johannesen and Stephen w. Mr. Wood would like to thank particularly the solid core m or so students who attended all the films, the people who ded the transport and everybody who attended for their mature riour.

"No, not that film!"

The following items have been taken from this year's bulletins. They have been selected for their precision, lack of ambiguity and general importance.

STUDENTS.

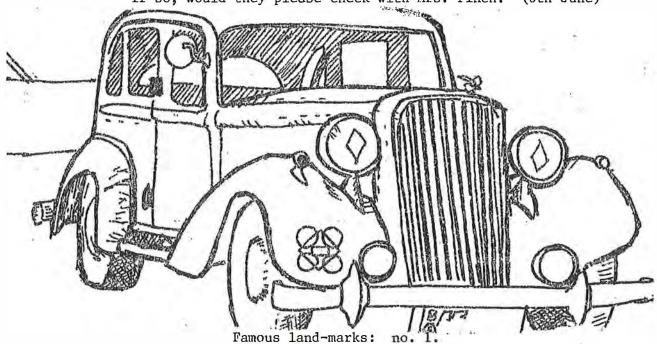

- 1. FOUND: Grey belt for girl's tunic, two dress rings, plastic comb holder showing coloured butterflies. (12th August)
- 2. STILL WANTED: My last appeal for washing machine tubs was unsuccessful. If you have, or know of, an old tub similar to those found in washing machines, please let Mr. Woods know. (12th August)
- 3. DANGEROUS HORSE: Students who walk into Salisbury over the footbridge are warned that the horse in the paddock on the other side of the bridge will bite if you go too close. If you see it with its head over the fence, give it a wide berth. (1st April)
- 4. FOUND: Blue lady's bike. Has anyone in the school lost it or does anyone know who may have lost it? (19th March)
- 5. AUCTION: There will be an auction held by the Matric. classes of second-hand articles and prefects. (19th August)

STAFF.

- 6. LOST DRAWERS: Has anyone seen the drawers missing from the teacher's desk in room 10? If so, please return them as soon as possible to Mrs. Penfold. (25th March)
- 7. LIBRARY: Has anyone borrowed A. P. Elkin, the Australian

 Aborigine from a carton in the storeroom of the Library?

 If so, would they please check with Mrs. Finch. (6th June)

INTERVIEW WITH PAT McCOOK, ROTARY EXCHANGE STUDENT FROM AMERICA SHORTLY BEFORE HER DEPARTURE.

Pat: "Pat, why exactly did you apply for an exchange scholarship?"

"Well, mainly because I had various exchange students stay with me at my place back home, and they had so much fun that I thought I would like to be one myself. I never thought I'd make it, of course, but I guess I was lucky."

Rep: "What impressions of Australia have you received since you arrived here a year ago?"

Pat: "Of course, I think Australians are wonderful people. Life here is just like it is in America, and I like it very much. Australian boys are very nice, and the girls are really friendly. One thing I noticed is that mini-skirts are much shorter out here than they are back home. I suppose a lot of people have said that though. Anyway, I think Australia is just great."

Rep: "What do you think of education here?"
Pat: "I don't think that students have enough

Pat:

"I don't think that students have enough freedom as regards exactly what they can study - you get more choices in America. Apart from that, there is less freedom of speech in schools over here, as people tend to be less outspoken. Generally, though, you do have broader interests concerning the rest of the world, as in America we learn mostly about America itself."

Pat:
"I think I have gained an insight into life in other countries.
I think, or at least I hope, that I have gained a lot of new friends. I think I've broadened my outlook on life, and I'm not so narrow-minded. I feel that I'm one up on my friends back home, as I've seen what life is like over here, and I've met so many wonderful people. This really means a lot to me."

Rep: "Have you any regrets at leaving us?"

Pat: "Oh, yes, of course I have. I'll miss all my new found friends, and I'll miss the rest of the people of this great country. I will also miss all the travelling round that I've done, as I will have to settle down when I get back to the States. I'll miss all those wonderful times that I've had, and of course I'll miss getting all that chalk-dust in my hair during my free period. Of course, I won't really miss that part too much. I can't help wanting to cry when I think of leaving you all, but I suppose I'll have to get used to it.

Rep: "What will you do when you return to America?"

Pat: "I'll have to go to school, of course, and settle back down to hard work again (Yecch). It has been really good fun out here, but all holidays must come to an end some time."

Finally, Pat, do you think you'll ever return to Australia?"
Yep, I sure will. My parents will be coming over here in 1971 for the International Rotary Convention, and I hope to accompany them. Apart from that, I've decided that I would like to settle down here, so sooner or later I'll be coming to stay. Until I see you all again, I just want to thank you all for giving me such a wonderful time. I've really enjoyed myself, and I can't wait to come back again, so goodbye until then."

We on the magazine staff would like to say that Pat has been a iend to us all, and we miss her very much. During her stay, she r morale a great boost, and played a big part in school affairs. s we thank her, and we sincerely hope that we made her stay a ne.

SECOND YEAR GIRLS' CAMP.

On Friday, 27th June, 40 girls, 4 girl prefects and 4 teachers travelled by bus to Mylor for the second year girls' Physical Education camp. During the weekend, we took part in many activities, the main ones being a scavenger hunt, indoor and outdoor games, a fancy dress party and concert and a couple of hikes. At the end of the camp, Miss Rees asked us to record our reaction to camp under three headings. The comments below sum up our feelings about camp life.

1. What I liked about the camp:

"well organized;" "good fun;" "late suppers;" "bunk beds;" "mixing with teachers and prefects;" "good setting and scenery;" "terrific modern buildings;" "cooking;" "freedom;" "getting away from the family;" "not having to do dishes morning and night;" queer activities, like looking for moths at night."

What I disliked about the camp:

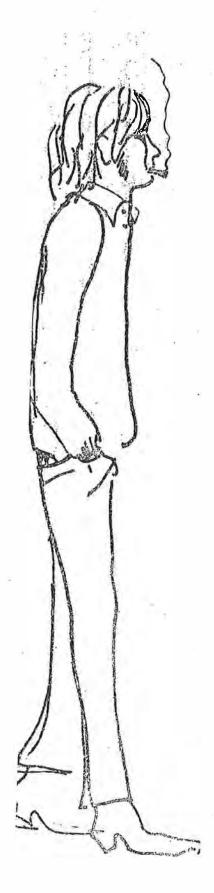

"cold nights;" "stew and lumpy custard;" "long hikes up steep hills;"
"getting up early;" "too short a camp;" "crowding for showers;" "not being able to go to sleep;" "apple crumble after it had been on the floor;" "peanuts dropped from the bunk above."

3. What I learned at the camp:

"How to live with other people;" "prefects and teachers are good fun;"
"to try anything;" "to make cornflakes;" "you can't judge people by appearance;" "to whistle;" "that I snore;" "to keep my mouth shut;"
"to pack a suitcase;" "to have fun without T.V. and radio;" "the only place to find sour sobs in Mylor is outside the Ampol service station."

SOME THOUGHTS.

Late afternoon is the worst time;
When I'm home from school with nothing to do That's when I feel it most.
I wonder what she's doing - perhaps her homework;
Probably. She really is a good student.
Nobody's home; there are no distractions.
My mind is its own master, the slave of my feelings:
Feelings which swell and subside within me
Like the never-ending motion of waves on the shore.
I think of her and a smile comes to my lips;
I tell myself I should be gladdened,
But, somehow, I am only saddened.

I WAS A TEENAGE COFFEE MUG.

My name is Matilda, and I am the cutest little teenage coffee mug ever saw. My enamelling is orange and brown and I have a very gant figure. I am six inches tall, and my measurements are 8", 8", 8". n sixteen years old.

I have lived a dreadful life being filled with boiling hot water and ing bitter coffee poured into me. Sometimes I have been very embarsed when left dirty on the sink for days. All the clean cups and mugs red at me.

Like most normal teenagers, I have had boyfriends. Frederick, my band, I met some time ago. He is tall, dark and handsome, eight inches l with a marvellous physique; his measurements are 10", 8", 8". Somees we went out together, usually to the local dance called "Joan's y." Here we sat and talked, or did the coffee twist.

I met Frederick when I was ten, when he and his family moved into next-door cupboard. I first went out with him on the 29th February n I was twelve years, four months and three days old. We were sent to a party together, and I knocked him over. I knew then that I was tined to marry him.

On 13th June, 1968, Frederick took the plunge and proposed to me.

"Matilda," he said.

"Yes," I replied.

"Matilda, I..... I've something to ask you."

"Yes, dear Frederick," I answered.

"Matilda, would you be my coffee mug for ever and will you marry me?"

"Oh, Frederick," I cried, "This is so sudden; give me time to think."

Later, Frederick asked me out again. On the way home, he said:

"Matilda, have you decided?"

"Yes," I said. "No, Frederick, I can't. I'm far too young."

His heart was broken.

The next Thursday, Frederick tried to commit suicide when he jumped the shelf, but he did not succeed. He only broke his handle and wred his spine, becoming a para-crackic - so I decided I would marry if he would still have me.

We were married last week. All our friends and relatives came to wedding, and now we have our own cottage in the buffet. I will ote my life to him, and we will live happily ever after.

A PLEA.

Why do you point the accusing finger at us? What have we done to merit your hostile eyes?

We are young.
So once were you.
Can you not remember those days?
Was it so long ago?

We do not hate you, hate you or reject you: we are yours, and you, ours.

The past is not forgotten, but our lives stretch ahead. We mean no wrong in choosing paths other than yours.

Always feared, condemned, the innovations of youth are but attempts to reach a goal.

(Remember now your idealistic dreams?)

For good, for equality, for peace, we strive: for the freedom of Man.

So, do not reject us, condemn us, hate, fear or accuse us. We may succeed where you.....have failed.

THE MOON WALK.

A bewildered figure steps down onto a new world. Its steps, though well-weighted, are light and airy, And, as if in a daze, Floats away.

And now a follower comes to aid The discovery of wealth, from an old being. And finally all is well, and, After a flare and roar of engines, This new world is left, once again uninhabited And again a step forward in science.

VENTAMORE.

There were no stars; the moon was dim When Old Jack rode up to the Inn. Through the night Old Jack had rode To bring bad news from Castletoad.

He stood before the ancient door. Struck it, and then struck once more. No footsteps could be heard inside; To break the quiet of the night.

Slowly 'Jack went in the house, So not the tenants to arouse. Then slid he to the Keeper's room Down the hall, into the gloom.

The Keeper lay upon his bed Encircled by dark pools of red; A knife was thrust into his spine - On the handle the dreaded sign.

This is why old Jack had rode To bring bad news from Castletoad; For he had seen that sign before -The bloody sign of Ventamore.

The sign he had been taught to hate, Since ever a forgotten date; When Jack was only very small; A sign that was a curse to all.

A sign that put a curse on all; Brought death to all; brought fear to all. Now as he looked upon the man Fear took over, and he ran.

He ran up to his trusted mare, That quietly ate, and waited there; Waited on the lonely road That took him back to Castletoad.

What, showing your legs? How immodest, young lady! You belong with the ignorant youth, revealing your body! How dare you proudly display that figure moulded by the Master. Cover it up, I say.

Be quiet you hooligan, don't use your voice. Voices are like bodies; you must hide them. God gave you a voice, but where is your permit to say that you can use it? Crawl back with the brazen young hussy and hairy mad youth.

FISHING.

Shadows of twilight were sprinkled softly over the river. Trees and water turned lush in the soft vermilion glow of sunset. Trees primped before the mirror-like stream. Occasionally was the reflection disturbed by a series of rings - nature's memorial to a fly surprised by a trout.

Upstream, the movement was being ignored by youthful anglers intent on catching trout. On the bank was an old man. He sat as still as the stump on which he peacefully rested. The only movement was the smoke curling upwards from his pipe. His was a rawhide face, cracked and crinkled from life's burden. But his eyes were soft, gently twinkling. His fishing rod was ignored.

The float which bounced, ducked and ran, moving the rod. It went unnoticed. The old man slowly reached down and pulled in the line. A brown trout decorated the hook. A gnarled hand paused while reaching for his basket. The old man looked thoughtful for a moment; then he chuckled.
"This is no time for killin'," he said aloud. "Nothing should die at sunset. God's handiwork is about me." At this, he gently slipped the trout back into the stream.

BOYS' HOCKEY.

This year, Salisbury High School once again entered two teams in the South Australian Schoolboys Hockey Association's Saturday morning competitions. The junior team, playing in C2 grade, found themselves in too high a division, and did not enjoy much success. The senior team, playing in B2, two grades higher than last year, found that the tougher competition, along with the excellent coaching of Mr. Phillips, helped them to greatly improve their play and to enjoy a successful season's competition. In the Saturday morning competition, Salisbury managed to reach the semi-finals, only to lose to Woodville High (also coached by Mr. Phillips) in a very close, and one of the best, games of the season.

As well as the Saturday morning competition, Salisbury also played in a knockout competition, conducted amongst some of the secondary schools, in which we managed to finish fourth. On the local scene, the senior team also played against a team from Kent Street High School from Western Australia, defeating them quite comfortably.

At the Lightning Carnival, the senior team was most successful, defeating Elizabeth West 2-0 to go straight into the grand final where they defeated Elizabeth 1-0 to win the premiership in boys' hockey.

All members of the team owe much to Mr. Phillips for his help throughout the season, and we hope that he has as much success with future hockey teams at Salisbury.

Kevin Carter, Terry Spurling, 5K.

"A" GRADE SOCCER.

This year, our "A" grade soccer team entered the schoolboys Ampol Cup knockout competition for the first time, and the first game was against Salisbury East High School. Although we were on top for most of the game, we only managed to win 1-0 by a goal scored by J. Smith in the second half. The next draw in the competition was against Elizabeth Boys Technical High School team which defeated Salisbury High 8-1, with C. Rees being the goal-scorer. We were not disgraced by this defeat, however, for the Boys Tech. were the eventual runners-up in the competition.

Towards the end of the second term, our "A" grade soccer team entered the lightning carnival which was held at Elizabeth High School. The team combined well, and easily defeated its first opponents, Nuriootpa High School, 5-2. The goals were scored by D. Hands, P. Kelsey, J. Smith, and two by C. Rees. Although still playing well together, we were defeated 4-0 by the eventual winners of the competition, Elizabeth West High School. In both of these games, all members of the team played well together, and we were later complimented by the referee on a fine display.

Jim Smith, 5M.

FOOTBALL.

Salisbury High's "A" football team this year took part in a State out competition as well as the lightning carnival. Once again the was captained by Joe Bivone with John Spaans as vice-captain. In the first match against Elizabeth Boys Tech., Spaans in ruck and at centre half-back led the team to an enormous 64 point win. Final s were Salisbury, 18-12; Elizabeth Boys Tech., 8-8. Playing at Gawler in the second round, Salisbury went down in the few seconds after having led throughout the whole game. However, bury was without Central Seconds star, Graham Reed, and the home was a great boost for the Gawler side. Marron, Ivanoff and Bivone ed hard all day, only to see Gawler succeed by 2 points: Salisbury, Gawler, 11-8.

On Wednesday, 20th August, the open team took part in a lightning val on the Elizabeth oval. In the first round, Salisbury defeated otpa by a close 4 points. Bivone at centre and Spaans in ruck comwell to set up many strong moves. Halfpenny and Koleff were solid disappointing defence - Salisbury, 6-6; Nuriootpa, 6-2. Salisbury irdwood in the semi-final. Bivone was outstanding at centre, and the two wings, Nicolai and Robinson playing brilliantly, Salisbury y won 10-6 to Birdwood's 3-6. In the grand final, Salisbury were beaten by the tremendous teamwork and fitness of the Elizabeth team, ugh Salisbury outscored them in the second half. Spaans rucked well st Fairclough, while Marron and Schebella gave him great support. ff was the leading goal kicker in all of the team's matches. Although the open team was weakened by the absence of some third players, Salisbury High's third year team was successful in winning grand final. Captain and best player was B. Dempsey. The first econd year teams were disappointing although they tried hard all Match practice was their main worry.

Each member of the various teams would like to thank their coaches, specially Mr. Wadrop for the tremendous effort he put into each

SENIOR BOYS' BASKETBALL.

During the Interschool lightning carnival which was held towards the f the second term, the Senior Boys' Basketball team played reasonwell. Competition was fierce as was indicated in our first match. re defeated 40-14 by Nuriootpa, but this was by no means a disgrace, riootpa went on to play in the grand final.

The second game was certainly a morale booster: Salisbury, 56; beth West, 8. After this great effort, we were entitled to play st Gawler in the losers' grand final.

After our great win in the second game, we were quickly brought back rth as Gawler moved away from us. To our credit, we fought back to by only 3 points in a very close game.

Ihroughout the series, the best and most consistent players were acaitis and John Ward who proved a formidable defence, and Stephen and Brenton Heywood, whether at centre or as a forward.

UPPER SCHOOL GIRLS' HOCKEY.

The upper school girls' hockey team played Nuriootpa in the first match of the Lightning Carnival and was defeated by penalties. With little rest and much effort, we tackled and defeated Elizabeth West 3-0 in the losers' section. Immediately after, we played Salisbury East in the losers' grand final but were defeated 3-0. All of our girls played well and our thanks go to Miss Rees for her untiring assistance throughout the year.

Valerie Hutchinson, 4B.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON GIRLS' HOCKEY.

Salisbury High School again entered a team in the South Australian Women's Hockey Association. As we were in a grade higher (C3) this year, the competition was much keener. The team managed to reach the first semi-final, but unfortunately was defeated by Flinders University.

All players improved greatly throughout the year, and this contributed to the successful season. The captain would like to thank the team members for their help. Many thanks must also go to Miss Rees for her coaching and support at games.

Jenny Bateup, 5M.

'A' GRADE GIRLS' BASKETBALL.

After some strange positioning of goalies, and frequent changing of places, the team was finally organized, thanks to Mrs. Andrew.

We practised hard, and on the morning of the Lightning Carnival, we seven and Elke set out to test ourselves as a team against other schools.

We lost the first match to a much more co-ordinated side in Gawler. Playing confidently, we won the next match against Elizabeth West High. This placed us in the losers' grand final against Birdwood. We started underdogs, for we were expected to play ten minutes after the other match, whereas Birdwood had rested through a forfeit. However, undeterred, we tried hard, but were unsuccessful.

By the end of the day, the team had begun to look like a team, but alas, all too late.

Dorothy Crebbin, 4A.

'B' GRADE GIRLS' BASKETBALL.

Due to some misplacement of girls in positions, the Salisbury High 'B' grade basketball team began on the wrong foot. Unfortunately, ost the first game of the Lightning Carnival 32-12 to Nuricotpa.

With much reshuffling, the team tried hard to be able to compete in losers' grand final. With good teamwork, we managed to come out the ers with a good score of 46-6 against Elizabeth West. However, we no match for Elizabeth High in the grand final, the score being 2. Congratulations Elizabeth High!

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the girls for their good and sportsmanship. Many thanks must also go to Mrs. Andrew for admirable coaching.

Anne Devlin, 4B.

GIRLS' INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL, 1969.

The Inter-class basketball competitions this year followed the tern of so many other projects, beginning with almost all-round usiasm and gradually finishing with a general feeling of, "Oh, no! basketball today!"

This does not seem a very enthusiastic way to introduce this sub, but I think many students revealed a lack of enthusiasm. Those s who did put their 'heart and soul' into the competition certainly something for it, but those who did not play or show interest, naturgained nothing.

The girls to be congratulated are the winning teams and also the res. In the first and second year competition:-

2Al came first with 12 points (131 goals)

2A2 came second with 12 points (47 goals)

2B came third with 11 points (88 goals)

the third, fourth and fifth year competition, placings were as follows:-

3B2 came first with 14 points (83 goals)

3E2 came second with 12 points (96 goals)

3El came third with 10 points (53 goals)

Having to play during lunch hours, time was somewhat limited, and cruptions such as Activities Week and excursions did not help; perthis is where interest was lost. Finally, thanks must go to the res once again, and to the girls who tried and showed enthusiasm.

Gillian Sellar, 5M.

STAFF VERSUS PREFECTS FOOTY MATCH.

During Activities Week this year, two "armies" decided to play war on the school oval. The Staff Regular Army, led by General "Bomba War-flop" declared war on the "Reds" under General Joe Baloney.

So that innocent bystanders would not be injured, "Tiny Tim" Jack-son was called on from Central Command to act as referee.

The Staff at once set themselves up with the wind behind their backs and the battle began. Trouble flared in the "Red" camp when Sergeant Biblewater was bayonetted while trying to stop Lieutenant Spoons from attacking in the wrong direction. The "Reds" went straight into attack with their mad Bulgarian recruits, Karaivanoff, Ivanoff, Stoyanoff and Koleff determined to "do-or-die." However, strong machine-gun fire from Corporal "Blackie" Woods, Lieutenant "Bugs" Abbort and Privates McAboy and "Bomb-shell" Hadland kept them back.

Corporals Watson and Carter were able to sneak through and score hits for the "Reds" while long shots by Major "Demon" Kite and General Warflop equalized for the Staff. General Joe Baloney was being shot at by his own "Red" men after he missed three easy targets.

A truce was called by "Tiny Tim" Jackson so that he could survey his "old school." The Staff Army was nursed by Staff Sisters Rees, Penny and Howell-Price, while the "Red" camp had Nurses Crebbin, Gale and Rees in attendance. During the truce, Major Kite had sneaked through the "Red" front, but was captured while asleep by "Red" mercenaries Brown and Schebella.

Once the truce was over, the battle blazed again. Sergeant Koziol fluked a shot after nearly running out of ammunition (and breath). Major Kite escaped from Lieutenant "Brutus" Ward to score again. The "Reds" replied from Corporals Ivanoff and Watson and the battle was still tense. Lieutenant Selpolt was as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar and kept the "Red" army out for the rest of the battle.

The "Reds" finally surrendered to the Staff forces. Best battlers for the Staff were Warflop, Walton, Hadland and Seipolt, while for the "Reds", Joe Baloney, Ivanoff, Koleff and Nicolai fought hard throughout the whole battle.

Joe Bivone, 5M.

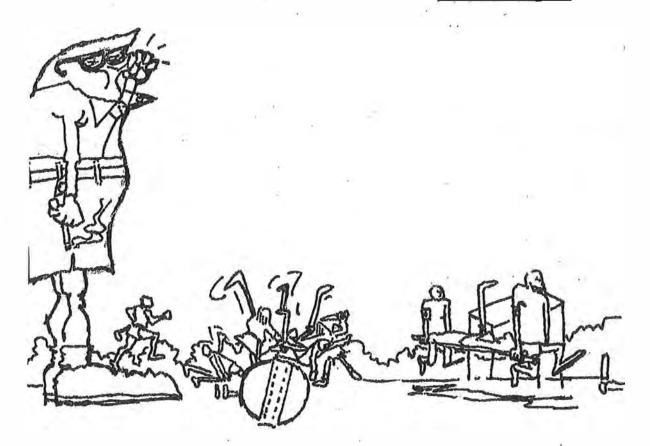

TEACHERS VERSUS STUDENTS HOCKEY MATCH.

Late in the second term, the staff were challenged to a hockey match combination of the boys' and girls' school hockey teams. The stude, anticipating a "walk-over", started in a complacent manner. However, the teachers, with Wood at centre-half as architect, were attacking through inners Walton and Wadrop. Indeed, nearing half-time, it was op who, with a lightning backstick shot, put the teachers in front. During half-time, the students, fearing humiliation in front of their ows, decided to rectify the position. On resumption, they peppered goals, but valiant defence by goalie Hancock kept them out. At this e, the teachers brought in their secret weapon, Phillips, in an mpt to stabilize their shaky defence with his vast experience. It became obvious to all perceptive spectators that the students missing the dynamic play of right-winger, May, who was being adealy controlled by Woods. Zeleny eventually got the equaliser from a missing the dynamic play of right-winger, May, who was being adeely controlled by Woods. Zeleny eventually got the equaliser from a t corner and the game was poised for an interesting finish. However, Hadland, the right half, was seen on the left wing, it was obvious the teachers were beginning to panic. Wood vainly tried to rally charges, but, amid the chaos, Fernandez scored the winning goal for students.

Best players for the staff were Wood, Wadrop and Walton. Hancock. took to goalie like a "natural', deserves a special mention for his rts. The students were best served by Fernandez, Leathem and ling.

INTERSCHOOL SWIMMING CARNIVAL, 1969.

The fifth annual Central Districts Secondary Schools Swimming Carnival was held during March this year in ideal conditions at the Salisbury Swimming Centre. From eight schools participating, the girls were placed third and the boys fifth. We had many swimmers who excelled themselves for the school.

Vicki Jaensch took the limelight by winning six events, breaking six records, gaining a second place and also participating in two relay events. This is surely an outstanding feat - swimming in nine events in a few short hours. Eve Cienciala also did well to gain two third placings.

Praise must also go to Ben Byass for his first and second places in the open freestyle and under 15 breastroke. Colin Heath gained a third place as did J. Reudiger and Roger Darkins.

This year, due to the coaching of Mr. Wadrop and Miss Rees, our swimmers managed to gain valuable points in the relay sections. In previous years, our relay teams have been quite unsuccessful, but this year the under 13 girls' team won their event and the boys' under 16 team were placed second. Third places were gained by the under 14 and under 16 girls' teams and open boys' team.

Elizabeth High were victorious on the day, easily winning both the boys and girls competitions by large margins, followed by the boys and girls Technical schools.

Dorothy Crebbin, 4A.

SALISBURY HIGH SCHOOL SWIMMING CARNIVAL.

The annual Salisbury High School swimming carnival was held at the Salisbury Swimming Centre on the 6th March this year. Staff and prefects combined to run a successful and exciting carnival. A shield was presented to house leaders Joe Bivone and Dorothy Crebbin by Mrs. Hensel.

The overall results were:-

CAIRNS	MAWSON	FLOREY	OLIPHANT
162	155	145	 93

whilst twenty-seven new records were established.

SPORTS DAY REPORT.

This year, for the first time, much of the organization for the s Day was undertaken by the prefects, although they were ably ited by Mr. Wadrop. Many thanks must, as always, go to Mr. Wadrop is capable handling of the activities, and also to the prefects who as timekeepers and recorders, and contributed to the smooth run-

Outstanding athletes of the day were Dorothy Crebbin and Ian Johnwho each won seven events. Dorothy completed a magnificent effort mning both the open and the under 16 girls' cups, while Ian won the · 14 boys' section. Graham Reed (open boys) and Teresa Madejewski r 15 girls), followed close behind with successes in six individual s each, Teresa's most meritorious feat being her victory in the girls 400 metres.

Mawson house proved dominant in the team games, winning ten of the y-two events, followed by Oliphant with six. Cairns athletes ed supreme on the day, however, and easily won the shield by seventy s.

CENTRAL DISTRICTS SECONDARY SCHOOLS SPORTS DAY.

The fifth annual Sports Day was held at the Central Districts Oval h May. Compared with previous years' results, the school's effort year was creditable. In all, our contestants were successful in ng thirteen events, six better than last year, and a decided vement on the single victory of Knut Cudarans in 1967. No doubt was due in part to the introduction of two divisions in all running s, which added further interest to the competition.

In the boys' division, there was a hundred per cent improvement on year, and our position was fourth as compared with sixth in 1968. ilar rise was also noticeable in the girls' division. Unfortunately, re unable to repeat our performance of winning a pennant, as we did year.

Congratulations must go to Kevin Schebella, our most successful competitor, for an outstanding effort in winning three events, the under 16 boys' 100, 200 and 400 metres (B division). Tom Stoyanoff, with victories in the under 15 boys' 100 metres (B division) and 400 metres (A division), and Teresa Madejewski who won the under 15 girls' 100 metres and open 400 metres (A division) also deserve a special mention. Other winners were Val. Hutchinson (open javelin), Anne Devlin (under 16 javelin), Glen Davie (open 200 metres), Graham Reed (open triple jump), Tony Harrap (under 16 long jump) and the open girls' bockey relay team.

GIRLS' METROPOLITAN HIGH SCHOOLS SWIMMING CARNIVAL.

Adelaide Olympic Pool, 20th March.

This was the first time that our girls' swimming team had entered contest, and, as can be seen from the results, we did particularly for a first attempt.

Each member of the team was limited to entering only four events, msure that no single swimmer monopolized the races. Despite this riction, Vicky Jaensch gained a distinction for our school by wing all four of her races, and setting new records in three of them.

Although Vicky gained many valuable points for our school, it not a sole effort. It was the team as a whole which gained second e in this contest. To illustrate how well our team swam, there 22 of our swimmers or relay teams in the 19 final events. Out the 22, 10 gained the placings below, besides a further 7 compers in 4th place for our school.

Miss Rees' coaching, coaxing, persuasion and threats extracted best from all the swimmers. The fact that the majority of places won by lower school students shows much promise for the future.
